WOMAN HELD FOR ACTION GRAND JURY

Jennie Biecciar Charged With Violating Prohibition Law.

MADE TRIP TO BALTO.

Woman Had Six Quarts of Whisky ad Two Pints of Gin—Released on Own Recognizance.

Acting on information furnished by the husband of the woman Jennie Brecciar was arrested at 7 o'clock last night by Policemen Grover on a charge of violating the provisions of the state prohibition law.

When carried to police headquarters a hand satchel which she had brought from Baltimore it was found contained six quarts of liquor and two pints of gin. The woman did not deny being guilty.

The accused, however, told Justice Thompson that her husband sent her to Baltimore for one quart of whisky, and that she used up her rent money and purchased the additional whisky and gin, realizing Baltimore soon would be dry. She also told the court that she wanted the whisky for medicinal purposes.

Justice Thompson told the woman he had no other alternative than to hold her for the action of the grand jury.

Afterward, however, she was released on her own recognizance to appear before the grand jury when wanted.

The couple lived at 818 North Columbus street and the wife is the mother of four children, and it was for the sake of the children that she was released without bail. Her husband stated he is employed at an acid plant.

OUTLAW MURDER CASE UP.

Selection of Jury to Try Edgar Morris Makes Slow Progress.

Charlottesville, Va., June 24.—Judging from the slow progress made yesterday in selecting jurors to try Edgar Morris, former soldier and later an outlaw in Greene County, likely will take the whole of today's session of the Circuit Court to complete the panelof 16 from which to select a jury of 12 to try the young mountaineer charged with the murder of Magistrate Sullivan, shot down in his court room following a verdict against the youg man in a misdemeanor case The prisoner was accompanied in court by his father George N. Morris, former deputy sheriff, and a number of his women relatives, who are standing loyally by the young man, despite the serious charge for which he stands indicted. A large number of citizens accompanied the 78 witnesses for the prosecution and defense from Greene. It is rumored among the legal fraternity that the defense hopes to get Morris off on the plea of irresponsibility. Such a plea will be met with a strong showing in rebuttal by the prosecution that he is not only not of feeble mind but is a cuning and calculating chap, who has played the role of bad man in typical Far Western style.

URGES BRITISH TO BORROW FROM U. S.

London, June 24.—Sir Henry Thornton, general manager of the Great Eastern Railway, has returned to London after a visit to the United States. Interviewed by the Daily Telegraphed, he said:

"America, has a tremendous amount of capital, and the interesting question arises: Why should not we have some of it? Why should we not use American capital for new commercial enterprises? A considerable portion will go into foreign fields for investment in any case and I know American financiers would prefer that it come here or to any part of the British empire.

"Do not misunderstand me. I am not advocating what I may call the American power of industrial penetration. We must always retain the control and management of the various projects so capitalized."

ALLEGED DESERTION.

Mrs. Eleanor Rayband Asks Court to Annul Her Marriage.

Rockville, Md., June 24—Mrs Elevanor Bradley Griffith Rayband, of Washington, formerly Miss Eleanor Bradley Griffith, of Harper's Ferry, W. Va., has sued in the circuit court here for the annulment of her marriage to Edward R. G. Rayband, formerly of College Park, Md., which took place at Woodmont, this country, on January 18 last.

Leaving his bride a few hours after the ceremony with the understanding that he would join her at her home in "an hour or two," claiming to straightway forget that he had ever been through a marriage ceremony and soon afterward departing for Europe, wher he is now said to be, without again laying eyes o his young wife, are some of the things charged agaist young Rayband in the bill filed in the case.

According to the bill, Rayband was connected with one of the foreign legations at Washington. He had, the bill sets forth, been paying marked attention to Miss Grifffith for a long time, ad, under presitent urging, finally succeeded in gaing her consent to become his wife.

The bill states that she learned that Rayband was in Europe and exchanged a number of letters with him. His letters, so the bill says, seemed to indicate that he was very much surprised to learn that they had been married, and repeatedly insisted that he had not the slightest recollection of anything of the kind happening.

MAY TRANSPORT LIQUOR

Virginia Law, Judge Says, Does Not Make Unlawful Carrying Whisky Through Commonwealth

Danville, Va., June 24.—Judge E. Walton Brown, of the Corporation Court, yesterday morning handed down a voluminous opinion on the case of the Commonwealth against Thams Cobbs, a negro, who was arrested here last March while piloting a roadster from Baltimore to Georgia, the machine containing 150 quarts of liquor.

Judge Brown holds that the shipment of ardent spirit from one State through the State of Virginia to another state, is not a violation of the Webb-Kenyon or the Reed bone dry law. He cites sections of the law, explains them, and also cites the case of the State of Virginia against Luchesi.

After reciting the facts in the Cobbs case, these being agreed to by the Commonwealth in order to eliminate the taking of evidences the court says:

"It, therefore, follows that, inasmuch as the agreed facts show that the liquor was not to be used in violation of the laws of this State, and there with the property of of this State, the Webb-Kenyon law has no application and no effort to change the general rule that the State may not regulate commerce wholly interstate. The General Assembly of Virginia evidently recognized this limitation upon its power, for by the terms of the prohibitory law, which is very comprehensve and which has been several times amended, it is not expressly made unlawful to transport ardent spirits from without the State ,through the State to another point without the State."

In discharging the accused negro from custody and exonerating him of any crime the court states further:

"It is true that this State of the law leaves open an avenue of evasion for bootleggers to ply their trade by autmobile under the guise of interstate traffic through the State, and however much this situation is to be deplored, this case is decided as it must be on its particular facts. In cases of transportation by automobile it will not be sufficent for the defendent to claim that he is going through the State, for under the laws of Virginia, as in the Luchesi case, when the accused is found in the possession of more than one quart of ardent spirits he burden is upon him to prove that he intends to make, and at the time of his arrest was making, a continuous journey from a point without this State through this State to another point without this State. And it may be added if the evidences discises that the liquor was intended by any person interested therein to be received, possessed sold or in any manner used in violation of any provision of the prohibitory law of Virginia, such transportation, though interstate, would not be protected"

CARD OF THANKS

I desire to extend my sincere thanks for the the sympathy offered me on the occasion of the death of my husband and also for the beautiful floral offerings sent, and I also desire to thank the Southern Railway machinists for the automobile loaned at his funeral.

Mrs. James S. Jeffries.

GERMANS WILL SIGN TOMORROW

No Reservations Will Be Inserted or Added in the Treaty.

YES OR NO, LAST WORD

Huns Still Call It "Peace of Vengeance"—Must Submit to Save That Which Is Salvable.

Paris, June 24.—Germany will sign the pace treaty as it stands. Not a single written resrvation will be inserted in, or added to the document. Her mental reservations, however, are many, the principal one which she signs under duress what she considers a "peace of vengeance," and that she does so "save what is salvable."

But she will sign, and sign unconditionally; that is the all-overshadowing point. The alies had demanded "yes" on "no" and "yes" was her final word.

It reached Premier Clemenceau less than two hours before the expiration of her time of grace after all her frantic efforts—requests, demands, threats and appeals—to secure further modifications, and further extension of time had crashed against the stone walled front at Paris on which the "Tiger's" pen had writen again and again "Yes or no."

Paris is wild with joy tonight and hungry for the word as to when the signature will take place. The "Big Four" are this moment trying to set the time. One report said to come from the council room says 8 o'clock tonight has been decided upon. Wednesday more likely, however. Everything is in readiness for the momentous President Wilson's baggage is packed. He intends to depart for America ceremony at Varsailles. immediately after the signing.

Baron Sonnino, Italy's foreign minister will sign for his government.

The time of signing depends largely upon who will act for Germany. Latest word from Weimar is that Dr. Mathias Erzberger, vice premier in the Bauer cabinet, will come to Versailles as head of a new peace delegation. Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau and his entire delegation have resigned.

FEDERATION OF LABOR

About Half Million About to be Added to Organization

Atlantic City, June 24.—The American Federation of Labor, at the closing session here yesterday of its annual conventon pledged itself to obtain a general 44 hour week for workers in all crafts throughout the United States and for employes in the government service

The demand was based on a determination to prevent unemployment, which the delegates declared is one of the two primary causes of industrial unrest

The other cause is the decreased purchasing power of the dollar

Manufacturers and employers were urged to "bridge the gap" and increase wages" wthout any controversy"

Samuel Gompers president of the federation, was greeted with a roar of cheers late in the day when he announced from the platform that three of the four great railroad brotherhoods—the engineers, conductors and trainmen—had applied for charters in the federation The fourth brothrhood—the firemen—was meeting in Denver, he said, to consider a similar application

If the firemen follow the example of the other brotherhoods, the ranks of the federation will be increased by 500,000 men

I ask that the people bring with them to these meetings on this day their teams, tools and materials with which to work the roads in their respective neighborhoods, and that all the citizens of Virginia devote this day—their holiday, and their personal labor, facilities, materials and means to the constructve service of goods roads of the econmic and social advancement of our Commonwealth.

THE ARID ERA NEAR

This is the start of the week of weeks in the handling of liquors, both in the drinking and in the storing of them for future use.

The telegraph alone can now stave off the approaching July 1 ban. Were it not for this invention nullifying space as an obstacle to quick communication the clamping down of the lid Tuesday of next week would be a certainty. Congress has refused to act in declaring demobilization complete, a measure necessary to prevent enforcement of the "dry" law, and it is too late now or President Wilson to have time to reach America before its coming, but the cables may yet bring the needed declaration from the President.

While the saloon is a thing of the past, it may be truthfully said that that there has been no diminution in the use of intoxicants in Alexandria since the Virginia law regulating the use of liquor went into effect several years ago. The blotter of the Police Court shows there have been more persons arrested for drunkeness while the law has been in effect than in past days when liquor-selling was legal.

It is said that several hundred "bootleggers," white and colored, are operating in Alexandria, and that while the saloon no longer exists, intoxicants are disposed of as ever. Several persons will appear before the grand jury of the Coporation Court next month to answer the charge of selling or transporting liquor.

ROBINSON MONCURE,

100 HUNDRED SAILORS DROWN

German Ships Said to Have Made Signals to Destroy Interned Vessels

London, June 24.—More than 100 German sailors are believed to have perished while trying to escape in life boats after the scuttling of the German fleet at Scapa Flow. Some bodies have been washed ashore and have been buried.

A German four-master, it is said, appeared three miles of Scapa last Wednesday and gave signs to the German warships. The inference is that this mystery vessel conveyed the order for the sinking of the fleet.

A German wireless message picked up last night says the German crews went to England in the belief that the ships were to be preserved to the Fatherland but this when they found out this was not so they sank them in prefence to surrender.

RICHARD C. L. MONCURE,

The British admiralty still considers the story to have been fully told in the 130-word statement Saturday, and has made no supplementary utterances.

The decision not to maintain armed guards on the German warships was taken by the allied council at Paris following the advice of the principal admirals, namely:

Wemyss for Great Britain; Debon, for France; Benson, for America, Grassi, for Italy.

The decision was approved by the prime ministers of the various powers. The British navy, therfore, had nothing to do but carry out orders.

Hotel, Churches and Public Buildings Wrecked in Minnesota

Fergus Falls, Minn., June 24.—Forty-eight persons are known to have been killed and 150 injured in a tornado which struck Fergus Falls late Sunday. The list, compiled by State officers, does not include casualities from the surrounding country.

Most of the deaths occured in the Grand Hotel, which was crushed. Four churches, the jail and courthouse, buildings of a small college and a number of dwellings were wrecked.

Property damage was estimated at between $1,000,400 and $2,000,000.

Hospitals were packed with injured and many of these will die, advices said.

The Great Northern's "Oriental Limited" was brushed from its track by the heavy wind. All but two cars—the diner and sleeper—were overturned.

The storm struck the west part of Fergus Falls, Barnesville and Carlisle suffered also. Some damage was done at Brainerd. The storm cut a path more than thirty miles long, reports said.

KILLED IN AUTO

Petersburg, Va., June 24.—A. T. McKessick, aged 30 years, a resident of Prince Georges County, was fatally injured shortly before midnight Sunday night when the automobile which he was driving was struck by an interurban car near Lake Mont. McKessick died on his way to a hospital here. He was attempting to drive across the track in front of the approaching car.

To Our Patrons

Alexandria, Va., June 2, 1919.

In line with our progressive banking methods, and to meet the demands of our patrons, we are installing on July 1st, an up-to-date Safe Deposit Department, under the personal supervision of one of our officers.

This has been made necessary from the fact that a large number of our depositors owning Liberty Bonds and other securities desire a safe place for their keeping.

It is our plan to enlarge the number of Safe Deposit Boxes, and make a rental charge to meet the operating expenses of this Department. This charge will become effective July 1st, 1919, and a bill will be sent out at that time to the holders of boxes, and if any desire to make any change we will be glad to have them call before the bills are rendered for the ensuing year.
